Squidgicum Squee Will Be Rampant AT Grade School LOCAL PASTOR IS TO PURSUE WORK ABROAD

Annual Carnival and Exhibit Scheduled for June 10 in School Auditorium

The Squidgicum Squee and beves of fairies will hold forth at the Torrance Elementary School on Friday night, June 10, when the annual carnival and exhibit will be staged in the school auditorium. The fun is planned to start at 6 p.m. with enough good things to eat available to allow parents and children who live far away to avoid missing their evening meal. For those who come fortified with a meal at home there will be many savory articles to further tempt the most fickle appetite.

At 7 o'clock the tots of the primary department will present a playlet, "Crowning the May Queen." After the queen has been appropriately crowned, the auditorium will be turned over to the Parent-Teacher Association between 8 and 8:30 o'clock for the installation of new officers. Thereupon the big room will again become the scene of fairy fantasy, with the upper grade children presenting a playlet entitled "Under the Sugar Plum Tree."

The characters of "Under the Sugar Plum Tree" are from James Whitcomb Riley's poems. Going on a picnic, they meet some Hunting Lads and Lassies looking for the Squidgicum Squee and the Fairies.

Jean Wheaton will play the part of Little Orphant Annie; the Raggedy Man will be Francis Doner; Shuffle Shoon, Homer Kirkpatrick; Uncle Doc, Junior Rogers; and the Captain, Sherman Allen. The choruses will be sung by the boys and girls of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

In addition to the entertainment in the auditorium there will be "side-shows" for those in quest of the weird and mysterious.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by calling 71-R during the day, or 129-W in the evening.

Rev. A. Lyall, Seeking Greater Fields, Leaves Mark of Leadership

Rev. A. Lyall, pastor of the Torrance Methodist Episcopal Church, is to take leave of his congregation after June 12, to pursue advanced theological studies at Oxford, on the Continent, and at Yale. Mr. Lyall will preach June 5 and at the Children's Day services June 12, and immediately thereafter will leave for New York. He will sail for England on the Majestic.

On Tuesday evening, June 7, Dr. A. J. Hughes, district superintendent, will preside at a function in honor of the departing pastor. Members of Mr. Lyall's congregation have expressed themselves as feeling keenly the loss of his painstaking leadership, which, in the 14 months of his pastorate, has made his ministry a significant one.

Coming to Torrance from Los Angeles after a successful three-year pastorate there, Mr. Lyall threw himself into the Torrance church problem with a vim that made itself immediately felt. He unified the church activities and organized new branches of work. Under his leadership a new choir and chorus was formed, a Young Men's Athletic Club was formed, activity of the Ladies' Aid Society was renewed, and important speakers were brought to the local pulpit.

Mr. Lyall, members of his congregation observed, has made his character particularly felt among the high school and college youths of the city, reaching them through the organization and direction of athletic teams and contests. Receiving his training in business administration and theology in a London, England, college, Mr. Lyall took his degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts at the University of Southern California. For a time he was assistant to Prof. Carl C. Knopf, who held the chair of Biblical literature, and later to Dean Fisher at the School of Religion, University of Southern California.

Mr. Lyall plans to go direct to Oxford, where he will study for a brief period. From there he will go to the Continent, which is familiar ground to him, later returning to this country to take up work in the Divinity School of Yale.

The relations of the departing minister with this section of the country will not be finally severed, as he is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Southern California Annual Conference.
